

Impact Report— ULIB 302/COMM 393D, Research for Nonprofits

Alyssa Wright

Spring 2017

Hours served: 96

Students participating: 13

Community organizations impacted: 1

Impact value to the community: $2,014

Students learned:

- Professional and technical writing skills
- Research skills
- Patience and perseverance
- Time management skills
- How to take advantage of available resources
- How to work with a client
- Research techniques such as starting broad and then narrowing scope

Community impact:

- Students presented several prospective grant opportunities to a local non-profit organization
- Students provided research about past grant winners
- Students provided executive summaries and other portions of technical writing that could be include in many grant applications

“This class was unlike any other that I’ve taken.”

- Spring 2017 ULIB 302 student

“I don’t think I started out as a good researcher, but now I know what I’m doing.”

- Spring 2017 ULIB 302 student